College History and Tradition

Our Lady and St Patrick's College, Knock was founded as a Diocesan, Co-Educational Voluntary Catholic Grammar School in 1985 with the amalgamation of the Sacred Heart of Mary Grammar School, Holywood, Co Down and St Patrick's College, Knock.

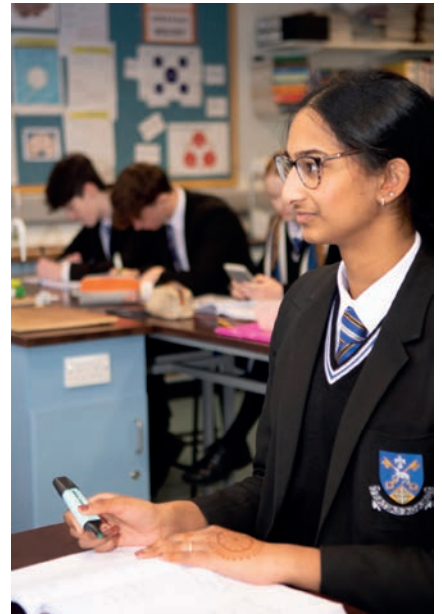

The College is situated in its own spacious 18 acre site in the Cherryvalley district of Belfast. Students come to the College from a wide area covering South and East Belfast, North Down and Ards. The rural and urban catchment area has the advantage of allowing young people from diverse backgrounds to mix and make friendships. As students of Our Lady and St Patrick's they are all assured access to a comprehensive and progressive curriculum with an extensive range of extra-curricular activities.

We are very aware that young people have varied needs and gifts, and our aim is to meet the former whilst helping them develop the latter. They need personal support as well as a firm academic framework; encouragement to enjoy their leisure and the worlds of art, culture and sport, as well as the challenge of intellectual discipline; the opportunity not only to succeed themselves but also to serve and perhaps to lead.

Our committed staff and range of facilities allow us to cater for almost all of our students' interests, be they popular or specialist. The College's Pastoral Care system, based on Tutor Groups, helps each boy and girl grow towards maturity. We are a vibrant school, proud of what we have achieved, and in this rapidly changing world we are constantly seeking better ways of preparing our students to meet its demands.

Catholic Ethos

As a Catholic Grammar School one of our aims is to build on the faith already laid down in the home. The Religious Education Department of Our Lady and St Patrick's College, Knock has as its primary objective the development of the student's spirituality in order to prepare him or her for life.

A comprehensive programme has been designed to meet all the needs of the young person. This programme has a strong pastoral dimension, including a Retreat experience. The Religious Education Department also seeks to promote awareness, sensitivity and respect for other sincerely held beliefs. Community worship is at the heart of College life.

The College Oratory provides a place for meditation and worship. We conduct liturgical services throughout the year – Advent Prayer Services, Lenten Penitential Services, Tutor Group Masses. The College has a Chaplain and Lay Chaplain who, together with a Chaplaincy team of students, lead a weekly Prayer Group and liturgies throughout the year, and organise our fund-raising campaigns. As part of their curriculum all students study Religious Education and it is a core, compulsory subject at GCSE.

Academic Excellence

First and foremost, we are proud of our strong academic record.

The fact that year after year our examination outcomes are significantly above national averages and that we add value to every young person's potential, shows that we are a very successful school. This success is nurtured by a relentless quest to improve what we do. It is also built on our blend of academic rigour, combined with a determination to challenge all groups of learners, regardless of their starting points. We have a high reputation for the quality of teaching and learning. It is this ambition, combined with care for the individual student, that underpins the continued success of our students.

Transition

The College is separated into three phases, enabling us to tailor all aspects of our curriculum and enrichment: Junior School (Key Stage 3, Years 8, 9 and 10); Senior School (Key Stage 4, Years 11 and 12); and Upper School (Sixth Form, Years 13 and 14).

Transition from Primary School to Grammar School is extremely important in Our Lady and St Patrick's College, Knock. It is such a fundamental aspect of making students successful, independent learners throughout their school life. We pay particular attention to how students settle in and enjoy their transition period between Years 7 and 8. Students have their own Tutor who takes them through our Induction and Personal Development programmes. Junior School students have their own lunch-time and our Sixth Form students provide leadership to our younger students through a very successful peer mentoring structure.

The curriculum offer is balanced and challenging, and is taught in a number of interactive and engaging styles, supported by robust tracking and monitoring. We run extensive programmes for study support, Homework Club, revision classes and individual student support sessions.

“My experience at Knock has been great. Our teachers are very helpful and our Year 13 Mentors have really made us feel part of the school. Making friends has been easy and there is something for everyone.”

Sarah, Year 9

Enrichment

We have a strong emphasis on enrichment and educating the whole child and it is our expectation that students get involved in extra-curricular activities.

We host wonderful plays, musicals and concerts with our orchestras and various ensembles and bands, for our own students and the wider school community. We celebrate the creativity of our students through Drama and Art exhibitions. The Duke of Edinburgh Award, John Paul II Award, Bar Mock Trial and Pramerica Community service scheme are established successes here and our haul of trophies from regional and national sporting events is a real testament to our strong sporting tradition. Departments are encouraged to organise activities which include an annual ski trip, educational and sports visits to USA, China and Europe.

“OLSPCK is a great school whether you like sports, arts or the academic side of school. The sports facilities here are amazing, the library has a wide variety of books and the classrooms are a great place to study.”

Lucy, Year 10

Sixth Form

The Upper School (Sixth Form) at Our Lady and St Patrick's College, Knock is an exciting place to study. We offer our students academic rigour and challenge, as well as providing them with the grounding and opportunity to be the leaders of the future.

Students have a wide range of choices with over twenty-five A-Level courses on offer as well as enrichment classes in Mandarin. Work in the Upper School is demanding and student achievement and attainment are high. Most students study four AS Levels, taking three through to full A-Level.

The majority of our students progress on to Higher Education, many of which attend Russell Group universities. We have a comprehensive Careers and work experience programme to support their ongoing education and ensure their future study and career success.

We offer a wide variety of enrichment activities, including academic visits, voluntary work, clubs and talks from guest speakers. Students can build up their enrichment hours through volunteering in the school community and have leadership opportunities to be Prefects and Peer Mentors, supporting younger students through their studies. They have dedicated study areas and a common room in which to socialise.

Inspiring Confidence

The learning environment is a visual statement to parents, staff and students of the high expectations that the College sets for the whole of its community.

Our purpose is to try and go beyond what we believe to be possible by embracing modern technology and using space creatively to maximise learning opportunities. Our school building and facilities are “the third teacher” after parents and our staff.

“OLSPCK is a safe and nurturing environment for our children where they can learn and grow in confidence with opportunities to develop their social and sporting interests while achieving academically.”

He is looking directly at the camera with a slight smile. In the background, there are shelves with books and various educational posters on the wall. A table with science equipment is visible in the foreground.

Inspiring Success

Success means different things to different people and every student is encouraged to be successful in his or her own way. For us, success starts with providing an atmosphere where the emotional needs of every person are met and where everyone is given a wide range of opportunities to develop existing talents or discover new ones.

At Our Lady and St Patrick's College, Knock we find a way to reward young people whether in academic performance, sporting triumph, artistic and musical accomplishment or in any of the activities we provide. However, we think our greatest success lies in our ability to help produce resilient, balanced, rounded individuals who are equipped to deal with the wider world and can contribute to the common good.

Gifted and Talented

We recognise and nurture the talents of all our students. A wide range of enrichment and extension activities are built into our everyday lessons and the personalisation and target setting arrangements in individual subjects ensure that we cater for gifted and talented students. Our programmes of subject learning, accelerated classes, sports and music, as well as our leadership activities and university visits, offer our gifted and talented students a wide variety of opportunities.

Community

By developing their sense of community, cultural awareness, respect and tolerance of differences, we help our students to take their place in society.

Students participate enthusiastically in the development of the school, fund-raising for charitable causes, and are active in the local community, building their self-belief, self-esteem, leadership skills and community spirit.

“We have been helping older people in our community, it is lovely to hear their stories about when they were young.”

Parents and the College

Regular contact with parents and carers is maintained throughout a student's time at the College. Written reports are sent to parents annually and meetings are held to discuss the academic and social development of all students. If, at any time, parents are concerned about their son or daughter, they are encouraged to contact the College immediately.

A calendar of events is listed in the Student Planner which is given to each student at the beginning of the academic year. The Student Planner contains details of all parent/teacher meetings, advice on the amount of time to be spent doing homework, dates of examinations, deadlines for the coursework components of GCSE and A-Level examinations, dates of field trips and when the terms begin and end.

Parents of Year 10 and 12 students have the opportunity to meet Careers staff, Tutors, subject teachers and Heads of Department on Options Days, as these students prepare to choose their GCSE and A-Level subjects.

Communiqué, a twice yearly newsletter, keeps parents informed about the life of the College. A regular e-bulletin to parents and our text message service are used to maintain links between school and home. Parents are urged to ensure that they receive and read the newsletters. Parents can consult the College website at www.knock.co.uk for details of admissions criteria, school events, calendars, policies and procedures.

Parents are encouraged to support and play an active part in our Parent Teacher Association which organises a number of events each year with the aim of furthering the positive relationship between home and school.

“The College has simply exceeded our expectations from day one. Our children are challenged to do their best in every field of endeavour.”
